in managing a number of working-people enjoy their good will. This was invariably obtained through uniform courtesy, kindness and carnest endeavor to deal impartially with home. In household affairs better drop the home. In household affairs better drop the word "manage." My wife knows the amount of my salary, and is kept posted in regard to all my daily expenditures. Each payday (saturday) we lay aside one-quarter of our rent, money for provisions, coal and gas, and an estimated amount for incidentals. The balance, for by this system we always have a balance, is put in a savings bank. My wife cheerfully and willingly obeys my slightest wish the moment it is made known, and having no monetary troubles, is comparatively happy. We attribute our placid life entirely to our system of "pay in advance," or rather, having our money ready beforehand.

No lover to prove untrue, apropos of wife management allow me to say put up with it. When a man marries his wife is his property, and it is his own lookout if he is not atle to manage her or it he lets a woman domineer over him. A husband should study the wisales of his wife and see that she has every luxury his means can afford, participate with her in pleasures and condole with ner in her grievances, and, like Adam and Eve, share the fruit with each other, be it for better or worse. A husband should see that his wife has a little independent money of her own, for a woman needs it to get her own personal requirements. If husbands who believe thems selves henpecked read and follow the above maxims "marriage will not be a failure."

"I was taken sick with liver disease and nicera-tion of the bowels; my beart was also affected. I was finally conduct to my bed three months. A consultation of physicians was held, and I was m nounced incurable. After that I stopped taking their remedies and began the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura. Previous to this I could not sleep, my nerves were excitable and spazmodic, my stomach would not bear load, vomiting almost constantly. Soon after beginning Dr. Greene's Nervira I sleps better, and my stomach would bear least food. I continued to gain until I could get out.
